

The Board of Trustees of the National Provident Fund (NPF) holds money for a number of members with whom contact has been lost. This money was contributed to an NPF superannuation account and contact was lost as a result of members changing their employment and address and not keeping the NPF Scheme administrator informed.

If you think some of this money may be yours please complete, in full, the following details and return this form to Datacom, the NPF Scheme administrator at the address noted below. Datacom will compare the information provided with the NPF records and respond to you within 6 weeks.
